Five students from PTS will be chosen to participate in a three-day visitation program at two seminaries in the Northeast and will also gather for a four-day retreat of intense interfaith dialogue with seminarians of other religious traditions (April 2-5, 2000). In addition, the five participants will help to host a visiting group of seminarians at PTS on November 2-3,1999.

Please submit a brief statement of two or three paragraphs describing your vocational goals, your background, and your reason for interest in such an interreligious and interdenominational experience to Professor Dennis Olson via campus mail or email, no later than Friday, September 24. Preference will be given to middlers and seniors.

A registration fee of $40 is required. Only serious applicants willing to dedicate their time to the project should apply.

◆ Paid Data Entry Project

The Hymn Society of the U.S. and Canada is creating a computerized version of its Dictionary of American Hymnology, a master index to virtually all hymns published in the U.S. and Canada from 1640 to 1978. The data is currently typed on IBM cards (700 boxes of them) and most have been inputted by unpaid Society members or volunteers. However, there are about one hundred boxes to go and the society will pay $150 per box to students or others for data entry (about 1400-1600 cards per box). All software (Windows 95/98) and instructions will be provided, and you can work on your own computer or arrange to work on one in the library. Data entry is very easy: first lines of the hymns, authors, dates, a hymnal code, etc., which you merely type into a template. At a rate of one hundred cards per hour, it will take about fourteen to sixteen hours to complete a box, so the hourly rate is about $8-$10 depending on your typing speed. If you are interested, stop by the Speer Library Cataloging Department, room 251.

A group is forming to provide mutual support for individuals dealing with a chronic illness. Diabetes, certain types of depression, chronic fatigue syndrome, fibromyalgia, and other chronic illnesses often lead to a sense of isolation because their impact is neither noticed nor understood by others. The first meeting will be Wednesday, November 17 from 1:40 to 2:30 p.m. in Nancy Schongalla-Bowman's office located in room 12 in the Tennent Hall basement.

Each spring, the Stewardship Committee sponsors the Annual Book Sale to benefit seminaries in developing countries. Money raised from this event will go to struggling seminaries around the world. Past support has gone to seminaries such as the Caribbean Graduate School of Theology in Jamaica, Trinity Theological School in Singapore, and Can Tho in Vietnam. We need committed and interested individuals to chair such committees as publicity, set-up, and clean-up. Volunteers for all stages of this event are welcome.

These surveys will appeal to those who track religion professionally, but they will also be of interest to clergy, church members, and others interested in the spiritual landscape of today. A wide variety of beliefs and practices are surveyed including: belief in God, attendance at church or synagogue, religious beliefs of today's teenagers, views about the interaction between politics and religion, life after death, questions of ethics, and others.

This book reviews fifty years of research into religious attitudes in America and takes an in-depth look at the American soul.
